Nazareth Market السوق השוק

Nazareth's market ("souq" in Arabic) is spread throughout the Old City streets and gives tourists a glimpse of a real Middle Eastern market in action. At the northern entrance of the market under the arch of the Fahoum family mansion are two bakeries offering different varieties of baked goods and delicious, cheap pita pizzas. Around the corner from the White Mosque, Abu Ashraf, owner of "Diwan El Sarria", sells mouth-watering Ramadan pancakes with cheese, walnuts and special syrup. The vegetable market boasts unbeatable prices on all types of seasonal produce (some of which will certainly be new to foreigners), while other sections provide household needs from coffee sets to clothes and music.
